Purpose

This seminar provides a comprehensive introduction to the legal system of Cyprus, focusing on key areas such as contract law, tort law, employment law, and corporate law. Participants will explore essential legal concepts, including contract formation, remedies, professional negligence, and corporate governance. The seminar also covers business-related legal frameworks—such as partnerships, agency, company formation, and management—alongside an overview of the Cypriot court system, sources of law, and human rights principles. Attendees will leave with practical knowledge to navigate legal issues in both professional and personal settings

Training Objectives

This seminar aims to equip participants with a well-rounded understanding of the Cypriot legal system, including the court structure, sources of law, and the law of obligations (contracts and torts). It will deepen knowledge of key business law areas such as employment, partnerships, agency relationships, company formation, corporate governance, and the regulatory framework for auditing. Participants will develop practical legal skills—such as applying relevant laws, analyzing different business structures, understanding incorporation and corporate finance, and identifying legal risks including insolvency and fraudulent behavior. Additionally, the seminar promotes a professional attitude grounded in ethical awareness, regulatory compliance, and corporate responsibility, fostering critical thinking and integrity in legal and business contexts.
